

Jan van Origo is my writer's name. During his youth Jan lived in the middle of South Limburg – the Netherlands. After finishing his study of Industrial Design at Delft University of Technology, Jan lived in Amsterdam where he met his wife Marieke. Now Marieke and Jan live with their two children for almost 20 years in a village near Rotterdam. His work is related to the safety of consumer products. One year ago he started an essay on the quest "Who are you – a survey of our existence".

The progress of this Odyssey can be followed on the weblog of the author Jan van Origo: www.janvanorigo.com

You are the greatest mystery.

A breath of the wind
In the rustling of the trees
Your voice is heard

Who are you - A survey into our existence - 1 Jan van Origo

Omnia

"Who are you" is about you and me and everything around us. Are you and I connected or are we separated? How are we connected? What makes you to the person who you are and who is involved in your creation? Who are you before your birth and who will you be after your death? Do you exist without an universe? What relationship do you have with the universe? How are you aware of yourself? And how are others aware of you?

This search will be a way home. Our journey leads from the beginning of time until now. At the end, we will look back. We will see that everything is finished in one sigh.

Man Leben, Carla Drift and Narrator started the Odyssey to "Who are you". This is the first part of the report of the quest.
